WOMEN ON SEA OF DISCONTENT

Father Sullivan Decries Highly Educated, Child and Husbandless Sisterhood

Try to Overstep Limitations

St. Louis, Aug. 19.—"It's a fact, this highly educated, screaming, childless and husbandless sisterhood. It might be a laughable show were it not for the effect such antics may have upon the young of the present generation. Women don't want higher education or culture if we are to judge from the energy and ambition of a few charming women who have wealth and leisure to enable them to get it if they cared for it. They do not exert themselves other than to acquire a few charming superlatives varied by an appropriate giggle or two, which equipment is sufficient to get them along in polite society."

The finality of this conviction was uttered with fervor by Father J. J. Sullivan, S. J., known as the Mgr. Vaughan of St. Louis.

Father Sullivan has held the chair of philosophy and for many years was dean of theology in St. Louis University. On account of ill health he has been transferred to Omaha.

Father Sullivan does not believe in higher education for women because they have not shown themselves sufficiently desirous of acquiring it. "The inordinate trivialities of modern femininity do not point to a desire for mental development," he said, "and in losing their reverence for older responsibilities in an attempt to overstep their limitations, women have been thrown upon a sea of vanity and discontent."

"They like to be and are admired not for what is in them but for what is on them. As woman is neither the mental nor physical equal of man, she will be compelled to suffer when she shall have taken from her only prop—masculine chivalry."

"The growing discontent over what women regard as their neglect has produced many aspects of such bitterness on the part of the screaming and screaming sisterhood, who display by their attentiveness a strange lack of confidence in their fathers and husbands."

"The moral condition of the race depends far more upon women than men. By keeping up the standard she has everything to gain and lowering it everything to lose."

HOW NATURE CURES

Dr. Woods Hutchinson Describes the Struggles of the Body to Eject Poisons

Some millions of years ago, when it first happened that four or five cells clung together to form organisms, the waste products of the cells in the interior of each group became a source of danger to their partners and unless some way was devised for getting rid of these waste products the colony was a failure. Hence at a very early period there were rudiments of systems of body sewerage providing for the escape of waste poisons. The result is that when the human body is confronted by actual disease it has all ready at hand a remarkably effective system of appliances for sewer flushing, street cleaning and garbage burning. If in an unguarded moment one partakes of one of those dainties of the economical housekeeper which so skillfully disguise scraps containing the bacteria of putrefaction or their poisonous products, nature may prevent serious injury by causing the outraged stomach to eject its contents.

"The power of playing, Jonah is a wonderful safety valve," says Dr. Woods Hutchinson, in his article, "How Nature Cures," in the September "De-lin-eator." "Don't try to stop vomiting till you're reasonably sure what it means," he advises, "but let it run off sufficiently irritating to shorten its career in this way, it may get on into the tissues before the body wakes up to its presence and acute diarrhoea ensues. This is a defensive action on the part of nature and is no more a disease than vomiting. Many of the popular colic cures contain opium, which, while it relieves the pain and stops the discharge, simply locks up in the system the very poison it was trying to get rid of. Physicians now try to help nature instead of thwarting her, and laxatives, intestinal antiseptics and other medications have almost entirely taken the place of opiates in the treatment of these conditions."

It is so invidious that it succeeds in getting itself partially digested and absorbed into the blood, nature has still another line of defence. Every drop of blood containing food and its products passes through the liver, which, in addition to its other actions, serves as a filter for straining out of the blood poisonous or injurious materials absorbed from the food, and converting them into harmless substances. Sometimes the liver is overwhelmed by appalling odds and some of the invaders slip through its lines into the general circulation, producing headache, chills, fever and other ills. This means biliousness, and the remedy according to Dr. Hutchinson is not to take something to stimulate the overworked organ to greater activity, but, chiefly, to stop eating, and thereby gives it rest through stopping the supply of food poisons to be dealt with. It takes brains to decide just now how far nature knows what she is doing and how fast she is to be helped and just when she has fallen into a trap or a bad habit and must be checked. "This much we feel sure of," says Dr. Hutchinson, "and it is the key-note of the attitude of modern medicine, that a large majority of the symptoms of disease are really nature's attempts to cure it."

ANOTHER MELLON FOR ROCKEFELLER

Oil Stock at 712 Makes John D. a Gainer by $80,000,000 Since Panic of 1907.

New York, Aug. 19.—No matter how much he gives away, John D. Rockefeller cannot become poor. His fortune accumulates despite himself by leaps and bounds of almost hundreds of millions. The stock of the Standard Oil Company of which he owns about 35,000,000 par value, sold at 712 yesterday, the highest price it has reached since the panic of 1907. The stock has been rising steadily for a long time and has advanced 322 points from the low price of $90 at which it sold on November 4, 1907.

This rise of 322 points represents a gain in Rockefeller's less than two years of $79,766,824 or practically $80,000,000, all of which has come about without a great investment of money on the part of the oil king or of the men who care for his money. The Standard Oil Company pays dividends of 40 per cent a year, and since 1882, when the company was formed, has paid to its stockholders almost $600,000,000 in dividends, of which John D. Rockefeller has received about one-quarter. The company's earnings did not fall off in the year of depression when the price of oil fell and there has been accumulated through a period of ten years a surplus of about $275,000,000, so that John D. Rockefeller will have a comfortable keep from growing richer as time goes on.

The oil king, recently has been transferring much of his realty to his son, John D. Jr. He also, not long ago, increased by millions the fund he established for educational institutions and among his various other gifts to mankind has added much to aid the work for the Rockefeller Institute.

The second largest holder of Standard Oil stock is the Harkness estate with 80,000 shares. The gain on this stock in less than two years has been about $20,000,000. The third largest holder, the Brookings estate, has a gain of almost $20,000,000 better off than they were a few years ago. The list of oil stock holders is as follows:

Remembering there has been a gain of $22 a share, it is easy to figure how the Rockefeller estate has been enriched in the last two years. These holders, aside from Rockefeller and the Harkness estate, are:

Oliver H. Payne, 40,000 shares, H. M. Flager, 30,000; O. B. Jennings estate, 15,000; H. H. Rogers estate, 15,000; J. A. Eastwick estate, 15,000; Benjamin Brewster estate, 10,000; Charles Lockhart, 8,500; L. C. Lydard and Payne, 8,000; George H. Tilton estate, 6,000; W. C. Whitney estate, 5,000; John D. Archibald, 5,000; W. G. Worden, 5,000; University of Chicago, 5,000; Daniel O'Dell estate, 2,500; S. B. Sargent estate, 1,050; H. C. Folger, 2,145; H. H. Rogers, Jr., 1,000; Mrs. William Thaw, mother of Harry Thaw, 1,000.

MARY MANNERING EAGER FOR DIVORCE

"Report of Withdrawal of Suit a Surprise—Talk of Reconciliation Futile."

BITTER TOWARD HACKETT

London, Aug. 19.—Mary Manning, the wife of James K. Hackett, who has just returned from the continent, said last night:

"The report that my divorce proceedings have been withdrawn surprises me. They certainly have not been withdrawn by my instructions. I placed the entire matter in the hands of my lawyer, and if he has taken such action I should think he would have cabled me to that effect. Certainly, I know nothing about a withdrawal of the suit."

"Any talk about a reconciliation between myself and Mr. Hackett is futile. It will never take place. The same conditions which resulted in my instituting suit for divorce continue, and you may say that there is not the slightest chance of a reconciliation."

Miss Manning will sail for New York on the Campana, Saturday. Her managers have cabled to her that they yearn a fine, strong play in which she will open about the middle of October. While in Europe she has secured a morality play, "Everywoman," based on "Everyman." She intends to produce this later. She will also appear in Shakespearean roles.

SPAIN'S TROUBLES ADDED TO TODAY BY MORE REVOLT

(Special from United Press.) Madrid, Aug. 19.—Spain's colonial troubles were added to today by reports from the Canary Islands where the natives are said to be on the point of revolt. The islanders wish to establish an independent government. Former War Minister Martineau, has sent to the islands in an endeavor to suppress the movement.

The Spanish government's reinforcement of all her garrisons throughout Spain at the present time, has been interpreted as foreshadowing news of heavy reverses in Morocco. Practically all the Spanish troops are being sent to the success of the movement which General Martineau is supposed to have begun against the Rif tribesmen. If the movement had succeeded or were even prophetic of success it is believed the government would have spread the news broadcast for its quieting effect on the people.

SLOOP WRECKED ON BREAKWATER

(Special from United Press.) Storington, Aug. 19.—While trying to enter the harbor here late last night the 40 foot sloop Leone, owned by E. Willmore of New York, ran on the breakwater and was totally wrecked. Willmore and his crew of three men were compelled to spend the night on the rocks where they were discovered early today by fishermen and rescued.

Willmore was making for Watch Hill where he intended to spend the night at a hotel, when his yacht ran on the rocks. The vessel is an auxiliary yacht and is worth about $20,000. She is lying high on the breakwater with a big hole in her port side and will be a total loss.

DYNAMITE USED TO DESTROY THREE ENGLISH WARSHIPS

(Special from United Press.) London, Aug. 19.—Proof of a deliberate attempt to destroy at least three English warships has been found, it leaked out today, by the men who are investigating the discovery of dynamite in the hulls of the battleships Lord Nelson and Victoria and the cruiser Duke of Edinburgh. No verdict has yet been announced but it is known that the investigators found the dynamite to be different from that used in blasting coal. It was found too that the coal came from different mines, thus disposing of the theory of accident.

In the belief that a plot to destroy ships of the British navy is in operation, the government has issued orders for a thorough overhauling of ships.

WIDOW OF FORMER GOV. COOKE ILL.

(Special from United Press.) Winsted, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Josephine W. Cooke, aged 68, widow of former Governor Loren A. Cooke, is resting comfortably today following an operation for appendicitis which was performed last night at her home in Winsted, Conn. by Dr. McKnight of Hartford. It was an emergency case and while the operation was successful the final outcome is uncertain on account of the patient's advanced age.

BROOKLYN WOMAN IN MENTAL DAZE

Many Days Alone, Without Food, in Her Otherwise Deserted Mansion

HUSBAND MISSING, AUG. 7

(Special from United Press.) New York, Aug. 19.—Not until Mrs. H. E. H. Benedict of Brooklyn recovered from the mental daze in which she now lies at Seney hospital, will the mystery be solved of how she came to remain for at least 5 days alone, without food, in her otherwise deserted mansion in the fashionable Park Slope section, where she was found with doors and windows open, lying half clad and unconscious under one of the beds. The mystery of the case is increased by the absence of the woman's husband, a music teacher and church organist, who was last seen leaving his home August 7 with a suitcase in his hand. This was the date, also on which Mrs. Benedict was last seen until her plight was discovered by the police.

The story was suppressed until today. Mrs. Benedict is 45 years old, a year younger than her husband. She is his second wife, having married him a year ago. When she was taken from under the bed by the police she bore no mark of ill-treatment but was fearfully animated.

When she was taken from under the bed by the police she bore no mark of ill-treatment but was fearfully animated.

WOMEN STRIKERS ARE FINED FOR ENGAGING IN RIOT

(Special from United Press.) New York, Aug. 19.—Ten of the strikers engaged in the riot between strikers and strike-breakers in the plant of A. W. Bowen & Company, neckwear manufacturers on West 12th street were fined $3 each before Magistrate Corrigan today. Four of the strikers fined were women who led the strikers in the battle. In passing sentence, Magistrate Corrigan refused to touch upon the position of the strike, declaring he dealt only with the violation of the law. The strikers, led by dozens of women strikers, met the strike-breakers as they emerged from the place yesterday afternoon and a pitched battle resulted. Police reserves restored order. Twenty-one arrests of women strikers were made and many of the women rioters were partially disrobed during the fight.

FLOOD FORCES PEOPLE TO FLEE

(Special from United Press.) Pueblo, Col., Aug. 19.—The flood conditions along the Arkansas river are worse today following a second cloudburst last night at Canon City, where tremendous damage was done. Hundreds of people living near the river were today compelled to flee from their homes because of the rising water. The damage to property is greatest in many years. Passenger and freight trains in many places is paralyzed. The damage is greatest in the northern districts where small streams have become torrents. The Colorado Midland and the Denver & Rio Grande have sustained the greatest damage, it is believed, and trains over these roads have been compelled to make long detours to avoid washouts.
